

Approval of Plan Would End Strife

By ANDREW BOROWIE

ALGIERS (AP) — French officials beamed optimism today at the crucial referendum on President Charles de Gaulle's self-determination plan for Algeria entered its second day.

A voter turnout averaging 62 per cent Friday in 600 rural communities bolstered official hopes for approval of De Gaulle's plan to end six years of strife in this French territory.

De Gaulle has pleaded for a heavy "yes" vote and rebel leaders have called for a boycott of the polling places. French officials frankly believe a heavy vote of approval would give De Gaulle a greater chance of achieving a solution for the bloody Algerian question.

The French army maintained a vigilant watch today as about 70 communities voted. The army was ordered to prevent abstention.

Moslems generally disregarded orders from the rebel National Front of Liberation (FLN), officials stressed, and went to the polls.

Major test—and the possibility of violence — comes Sunday when residents of urban centers, tense with agitation by Moslems and rightwing European settlers, cast their ballots.

The settlers violently oppose De Gaulle's plan for making Algeria an autonomous state and giving the Algerians themselves political self-determination at a later date.

De Gaulle warned Frenchmen the referendum will be their last chance to solve the Algerian problem. There is a risk, he said, that world events will sweep it out of their hands.

Thousands of battle-equipped troops took positions at strategic points in and around Algiers after a 10 p. m. curfew silenced the city Friday night.

Five plastic bombs planted by de Gaulle rightwingers had exploded in the city earlier in the day.

GOPs Think Changes Are Unnecessary

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton expressed confidence today the GOP can move ahead successfully without any change in its major principles.

The senator from Kentucky called the Nov. 8 defeat of Vice President Richard M. Nixon a temporary setback. He said it was so close it was like losing "the winning touchdown in a questionable play on the goal line."

But Morton, in a speech prepared for a meeting of the GOP National Committee, said the loss has been certified. He added the party's chagrin should not be dismissed lightly, but it also must not be reflected in the party's national conduct in the immediate future.

He said there is unbounded confidence among party leaders at all levels.

Morton called the party's 1960 platform the best in forward-looking Republican thought and said GOP lead in Congress will press a positive program for the nation.

As the surest path to future success, Morton said the national committee must strengthen party organization in preparation for 1962 and make it even better than 1960 "when it delivered substantial congressional and state-level gains and half the presidential votes."

Morton has indicated he might resign from the chairmanship in the spring, so some attention may be given to a possible successor at the two-day committee meeting. Morton will be up for re-election to the Senate in 1962.

There has been talk of Ohio State Chairman Ray Bliss as the next chairman, but friends of Bliss say he probably would not take the post at this time.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York Thursday was re-elected chairman of the party's congressional committee.

Cuba Charge Is Discarded by the UN

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council Thursday night discarded Cuba's latest charge that she is facing imminent invasion from the United States.

A majority of members of the 11-nation body made clear in debate they did not believe there was any evidence to back up the charge made last Saturday by the Fidel Castro government that an invasion was coming within hours.

The council ended its two-day debate without a vote—a victory for the United States, which termed the charge ridiculous and asked that it not be dignified by formal action.

A resolution by Chile and Ecuador—merely calling on the United States and Cuba to settle their differences by peaceful means—was not pressed to a vote. Of the 11 council members, only the Soviet Union supported the Cuban charge. Ceylon and the United Arab Republic did not commit themselves. The rest of the council — Britain, Chile, Nationalist China, Ecuador, France, Liberia and Turkey — agreed with the United States that the charge had not been proved.

U.A.R. Delegate Omar Loutfi, the council president for January, ended the debate with a brief statement expressing the hope "that nothing will be done which could in any way aggravate" the tension between the United States and Cuba.

It was the third U.N. defeat for Castro's regime in its efforts to pin aggression charges on the United States.

Last July Cuba failed to stop a resolution shunting charges of economic aggression to the Organization of American States, which rejected them. Last October the Cubans failed to get immediate U.N. assembly debate on charges that the United States was preparing a big-scale military invasion. The later charge still awaits action in the assembly political committee, which is in recess until March.

In a final statement Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa insisted that the threat of invasion "still hangs over Cuba despite the U.S. denial." He declared that if American forces invaded his country, "they will not meet a Cuba who is alone."

Two Workers Drown in Current River

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — Two young workmen drowned today when wooden scaffolding they were removing from a new highway bridge collapsed and they were plunged into Current River.

They were Sterling Smith of Corning, Ark., and Thurman Olsten, of Pocahontas. Both were described as being in their 20s.

Fellow employees said the men started to swim to shore but, handicapped by heavy work clothing, went under and did not reappear.

The bodies were recovered.

Several months ago a grandfather, three grandchildren and another youngster, died when their automobile crashed through a barricade at night and went into the river while the construction was under way.

The Highway 67 bridge was completed recently and Smith and Olsten were removing the scaffolding by sections.

What caused the collapse wasn't determined.

The men were employed by the Buxton Construction Co. of Hazen, Ark., contractors for the bridge.

Seeks Guide in Rights Problems

MEMPHIS (AP) — A federal judge has asked lawyers to prod the court of appeals at Cincinnati into laying out legal guide lines for a complex civil rights problem.

District Judge M. S. Boyd made the request Thursday after extending to Jan. 16 a restraining order barring eviction of some 400 Negro sharecroppers from Fayette County, Tenn., farms.

The government wants a temporary injunction against the evictions until trial is held on civil rights charges against the white landowners—unless the landowners can prove the evictions have nothing to do with the Negro's registration as a voter.

In an almost identical case involving 300 sharecroppers in Haywood County, the Cincinnati court issued an order Dec. 30 barring evictions and overruling Boyd's refusal to act.

Boyd said local skirmishing is going to extend into the planting season unless things move faster.

Boyd directed defense lawyers in the Haywood case to ask that a speedy hearing be held by the appeals court — preferably next week — with decision to be made on written briefs without oral arguments.

The foundation of the pre-trial maneuvers are separate civil suits filed by the Department of Justice against 81 defendants in Fayette County and 77 in Haywood.

In both suits, the government accused white landowners, merchants and bankers of conspiring in an economic war against Negroes who register to vote.

The whites contend the eviction notices were the result of farm mechanization, which they say has reduced the need for human hands.

He said he would begin hearings Jan. 16 on applications from Haywood or Fayette landowners who "are hurting the most" due to the eviction.

Ike's Budget to Be Larger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The budget President Eisenhower will send Congress before leaving office will be bigger than this year's and will forecast a surplus next fiscal year of at least $600 million.

Authoritative sources, in giving details, said the increased amount in the federal 1962 budget will mostly cover defense outlays.

Eisenhower will send his annual budget measure to Congress on Jan. 16. President-elect John F. Kennedy will take office Jan. 20. His administration and Congress will make changes in the budget.

Filibuster Fight Centers in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The perennial fight to devise means of choking off filibusters holds center-stage in the Senate.

In the wings, activity mounts as hushes of bills are introduced, some of them considered top priority by the incoming administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

A lull in the filibuster fight occurs today when the House and Senate met in joint session. They will count the votes cast by presidential electors in their state capitols on Dec. 19.

To no one's surprise, Kennedy will be proclaimed the winner. The announcement will be made by the man he defeated, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

On the filibuster front, the Senate agreed Thursday by voice vote to take up the proposed rules changes.

Senators proposing a clamp on filibusters maintained at a news conference that there was no danger the issue itself could bog down the Senate past Kennedy's Jan. 20 inauguration.

The bipartisan group of liberals claimed they could use a parliamentary device to bring the dispute to a vote if Southern senators should attempt a filibuster.

A spokesman for the Southern bloc, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., told newsmen the Southerners were "not stalling." He added that as a practical matter he could not see how any vote could be taken before next week.

By then, a compromise move may gain greater backing. This plan would permit a time limit to be imposed on debates by three-

Woman Held For Murder of Husband

COVINGTON, La. (AP) — A 45-year-old Arkansas woman was held in the St. Tammany Parish Jail today after being charged with the gruesome "torso murder" of her husband in Meina, Ark.

Prosecuting Attorney Ben Core of De Queen, Ark., said he filed murder charges against Mrs. Norma MacDonald in the death of E. G. MacDonald. Police said the woman refused to sign extradition papers and Core said he would begin extradition proceedings today.

Arkansas State Trooper Carroll Page said bones and human flesh were found in the septic tank of Mrs. MacDonald's farm home near Meina, in the septic tank of a house she rented in Covington, and in a station wagon she drove from Arkansas to Louisiana.

Sheriff Bruce Scoggin of Meina said MacDonald has been missing since mid-December. A man's torso, cut in half and with the arms, legs and head missing, was found in a well on a farm two miles north of Meina last Friday by Mrs. Lee Roy Hill, who had moved to the farm the day before.

Police said the man's head still has not been found. They still do not know how he died.

The woman was accompanied to Louisiana by her nine-year-old daughter. Officers, who arrested her Wednesday on forgery charges, said they did not know what would be done with the child.

Police said Mrs. MacDonald was arrested after she attempted to cash a check signed by a W. B. MacDonald. Arresting officers said they found a tracing she allegedly used to sign the check.

The couple lived in Covington two years ago. They ran a cafe on state Highway 90.

After the torso was found in the well last week, authorities began searching other wells and septic tanks in west Arkansas for other parts of the body. They found flesh and bones in the septic tank on the MacDonald farm, about five miles from the well on the Hill farm.

Positive identification of the body still has not been made, but Core said the information (charge) he filed alleged that Mrs. MacDonald killed E. G. MacDonald.

Sheriff Scoggin said MacDonald filed the description laboratory experts devised from parts of the body found in the well.

Page flew to Covington, near New Orleans, Thursday with Deputy Coroner Hartsell Geyer to question the woman. "She's being very uncooperative," he said Friday. He added that Mrs. MacDonald said she was innocent of the crime.

Police Patrol as Algerians Go to Polls

By ANDREW BOROWIE

ALGIERS (AP) — The Algerian countryside bristled with police roadblocks and troop patrols today as voting began on President Charles de Gaulle's plan to give Algeria local self-government now and a chance to vote for independence if the bloody rebellion ends.

The voting started in apparent calm throughout the Algerian countryside, but in Algeria four bombs aimed at the power lines of Radio Algiers went off just before it was to carry De Gaulle's final appeal for support of his proposals. The bombs caused major damage, but did not stop relay of the speech.

De Gaulle called once more for a massive "yes" vote so that negotiations with all factions on Algeria's future could be arranged "with the smallest delay possible."

Speaking from Paris to the nearly 27 million voters of France who on Sunday will decide the outcome of the referendum, he implied that if his plan is defeated, forces outside France would impose a solution in Algeria. "To vote 'no' would be to recognize that the problem would not be resolved by France," he said.

In Algeria, 3.9 million Moslems, 700,000 French colonists and 240,000 soldiers in the French army were eligible to vote. The voting is in the villages today, in the towns Saturday and in the big cities Sunday. France also votes Sunday.

Associated Press correspondent David Mason toured several outlying districts in the tense area around Oran and reported all was orderly.

Singleton's Marks 50th Year

Jan. 1, 1961 marked the 50th anniversary of the opening of W. P. Singleton's Store on South Elm Street. It is the oldest establishment in Hope under the continuous operation of the same owner in the same location.

Born on St. Patrick's Day, 1890, in Nevada County, Mr. Singleton was not quite 21 when he opened his store. Other businesses along the one block of Elm from Front to 2nd Street in 1890 were Hane-gan & Co., Boyett-Routon & Co., Reed Bros., Hope Hardware Co., White & Co., and Gibson's Drug Store.

Gibson's had been in operation 25 years then, Mr. Singleton recalls, but there have been more than one generation of the family running it through the years.

Hope Hardware has also changed hands. But not Singleton's. The store has been under a single owner for 50 years.

For 22 years there were two stores in Hope owned and operated by Mrs. Singleton, but the second one, located on 2nd Street, was dissolved 22 years ago. Many people have worked for Mr. Singleton, but his first employee was Lester White, now of Denver, Colo.

"The grocery store has always catered to the farm trade on a cash basis. The general outside appearance of the store has remained much the same for many years, but at one time the entrance was in the center of the front instead of to the left. Seven years after opening his business, Mr. Singleton bought the building in which it is still located.

In the minds of most people, peanuts is a product almost synonymous with the name Singleton. That is probably due to the fact that fresh roasted peanuts have filled the show window in the front of the store for about 30 years. Peanuts have been the most popular item handled at the store, along with such staple goods as quality flour and coffee.

Behind every successful man there is a woman. In this case Mrs. Singleton is the former Martha Walker. They have two children, a son Robert of San Antonio, Texas and a daughter, Martha (Mrs. W. J. Greenwald) of Sugarland, Texas.

This past Wednesday a surprise party was given at the Barlow commemorating the occasion of the Golden Anniversary of W. P. Singleton's Store. All the Merchants on South Elm from Front to Second St. presented gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Singleton.

LaGrone Williams and "Pat" Rogers made pictures of the celebration.

On behalf of the merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Ben Owen of the Barlow presented Mr. Singleton a cake decorated with a man and a wheel and inscribed "A Man who Goes Around in Circles is Known As A Big Wheel."

To complete the celebration Thursday morning the cake was cut and served to about a dozen merchants who are neighbors of Mr. Singleton on South Elm. As advice to merchants of the future Mr. Singleton said, "Make Hope the site of your businesses."

Store Sales Show a Slight Dip

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Department store sales last week were 5 per cent below the comparable week a year ago in the Eighth Federal Reserve District and for the year 1960 were 1 per cent under 1959 with St. Louis the only major city showing an increase.

In the last week of the year sales were down one per cent in St. Louis, 23 per cent in Memphis and 3 per cent in Little Rock. This more than offset a 5 per cent climb in Louisville and a one per cent increase for seven smaller cities combined.

For the entire year, sales in Louisville were about the same as in 1959 and in the seven smaller cities sales remained the same. But there were drops of 4 per cent in Memphis and 5 per cent in Little Rock, which more than offset the one per cent gain in St. Louis.

16-triet sales for the last four weeks of the year were 4 per cent above the similar period of 1959.

Harris Again Offers Gas Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new natural gas bill — which would write into law provisions long sought by the industry — has been introduced by Chairman Owen Harris, D-Ark., of the House commerce committee.

The bill, which would exempt natural gas producers from utility-type regulation by the federal government, is identical with a bill Harris submitted unsuccessfully before.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, introduced a bill to knock down to 15 per cent the oil and gas industry's 27 1/2 per cent tax depletion allowance.

Similar proposals over the last few years have gotten nowhere. Gross contends the present depletion allowance amounts to a tax loophole.

Another natural gas bill also was introduced — this one by Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss. Williams' bill is identical with previous proposals by him to exempt completely from federal regulation independent gas producers not engaged in the interstate transmission of gas.

The Harris bill, while exempting producers from utility-type controls, would provide for establishment of procedures for regulation on the producers' prices.

Labor Wants Quick Cut in Taxes

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor advocates cutting payroll withholding taxes as a quick prod to the nation's purchasing power in unemployment gets much worse.

The novel plan was spelled out by AFL-CIO leaders Thursday as part of a 20-point program recommended to the incoming Kennedy administration to jerk the economy out of its present lagging pace.

Specifically, the union chiefs proposed that Kennedy be empowered to trigger an income tax cut into effect if the rate of unemployment to the work force increases from its present 6.4 per cent level to 7 per cent or more.

This could easily happen this winter with the idle, now over 4 million, expected to top 5 million.

Under the AFL-CIO plan, everybody would get a $10 a week reduction in his withholding tax payment for a 10-week period. This means everyone would have an extra $100 to spend.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said in outlining the proposal that the plan would put $500 million a week, or $5 billion over 10-week period, into hands of consumers.

It has long been a labor union theory that such spending can bail the country out of economic doldrums. However, the executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp., R. Conrad Cooper, said here Thursday artificial stimulation is not a proper approach.

Cooper advocated tax relief for business generally, improved business depreciation allowances and an end to industry's rising cost spiral, including labor costs.

Cooper led a steel industry delegation into a meeting with President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union, who had invited the session to seek to get the half-die steel industry back into full production.

While both sides reported proposing to each other widely varying plans for accomplishing this purpose, there appeared a surprising degree of willingness by both to engage in further talks and try to reach some solution.

The union generally proposed what it conceded were pump-priming efforts while the industry wanted tax relief and reduced costs. McDonald hinted the union might go along with helping the steel firms get some tax relief.

Kings Return Causes Doubt of Security

By ROY ESSOYAN

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — King Savang Vatthana's return to Luang Prabang today raised speculation about the security of his royal capital.

A spokesman said the king returned here Friday night after taking off by plane because of engine trouble, but there were unconfirmed reports of activities by Pathet Lao forces in the area, 150 miles north of Vientiane.

The king, who came to this administrative capital to officiate at the formal installation of the anti-Communist government of Premier Prince Boun Oum, delayed his takeoff for Luang Prabang for a day, apparently for safety reasons. When he did take off he returned in a short time.

Pathet Lao rebels, backed by a Soviet airlift of weapons and ammunition, have been consolidating their strategic position in the north central Plaines des Jarres since New Years and have been threatening to capture the sleepy royal capital.

Western military experts here, however, would be greatly surprised if a major offensive materialized now. The experts have been saying the rebels would need at least a week to make such a move.

Thereports of fighting in the capital area could be isolated clashes rather than a rebel offensive.

(The censor eliminated the next two paragraphs of this dispatch, as well as a later paragraph concerning the morale of government forces.)

Rebel forces suddenly moved in on the strategic Plaines des Jarres and the provincial capital of Xiang Khouang last weekend, converging from their positions 65 miles north of this capital.

The royal Laotian government charged the attack was aided by an invasion of 3,000 Communist Vietnamese from the east. U.S. intelligence sources said outside Communist military personnel also was dropped by Soviet planes. Many Western military sources say these reports have not been confirmed.

McClellan Offers Bill to Reorganize

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill introduced in the Senate by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., would give President-elect John F. Kennedy broad powers to reorganize the federal government.

McClellan was joined Thursday in sponsoring the measure by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

The 1949 Government Reorganization Act would be revived by their bill. Under that act a president was empowered to reshuffle government agencies and create new ones provided neither house disapproved such plans within 60 days after their submission.

Until June 1, 1959, the act had been extended at two-year intervals. But Congress took no final action on a recommendation for another extension.

McClellan told the Senate he understood that both Kennedy and President Eisenhower would urge a prompt revival.

Eisenhower set up the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under the act.

McClellan said that unless the act is revived, "the incoming president will be denied the authority to present" his ideas on government organization.

During his campaign, Kennedy said he planned to establish a new cabinet department on housing and urban affairs.

McClellan said he is confident the reorganization authority will be approved by Congress so that it "may be made available to the incoming president soon after his inauguration."

Ambassador's Car Damaged

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—A bomb exploded Thursday night near the parked automobile of U.S. Ambassador Carl Strom. The car was slightly damaged.

It was the third incident involving Strom recently. The previous incidents have been blamed on Communists.

Strom's car was parked in front of La Paz University, where Mrs. Strom was attending a choir rehearsal. The ambassador was not with her.

Last Christmas Eve, a bomb exploded on the patio of the Strom home, causing minor damage. In November, he was stoned in Cochabamba when he went there to make a speech.

Says to Ask Ike About License

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's press secretary said today he "wouldn't have the slightest idea" whether Eisenhower plans to take out a driver's license after he leaves the White House.

And, Secretary James C. Hagerty told an inquiring newsman, he isn't about to ask the President what he intends about that.

Eisenhower himself remarked some months ago that he hadn't had a driver's license for 30 years and might have to get one.

Many years ago he used to drive and had a license. And, despite being chauffeur-driven for many years, Eisenhower has not lost his know-how as a driver.

From time to time he has been seen driving a jeep about his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., which will be his retirement home.

Since this did not involve driving on highways or public streets, no license was required.

But if Eisenhower decides to drive his own car on the highways after he leaves the White House, he will have to pass Pennsylvania's new rigid examination, which includes physical, aptitude and oral tests.

For his first trip to Gettysburg, after the inauguration Jan. 20 of President-elect John F. Kennedy, Eisenhower won't have to worry about a driver's license. His regular White House chauffeur, Dick Flohr, will drive the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to their farm home.

Tension Relaxes on Okinawa

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Tension which had been building up on this U.S. island bastion because of trouble in Laos appeared to be relaxing Friday.

But Joint Task Force 116—made up of U.S. Navy transports, Air Force troop carriers, the 3rd Marine Division and paratroopers of the 503rd Battle Group of the 24th Infantry Division—still is ready to move at a moment's notice.

Ike Sunny, Kennedy Is Sober

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sunny and sober.

Those two words spell one of the basic differences between President Eisenhower and President-elect Kennedy.

The elderly—70-year-old—Eisenhower appears to have a sunny optimistic outlook. The young—43-year-old—Kennedy is not pessimistic but appears to take a much more sober view of the world.

Three stories, which moved within an hour of one another on Associated Press wires, point up the difference.

During the presidential campaign Kennedy complained the American economy was dragging its feet, needed to grow faster. Eisenhower has appeared rather satisfied with the rate of growth. A number of economists agreed with Kennedy.

Thursday at 4:38 p.m. The AP moved a story saying the National Planning Association—which describes itself as a nonprofit, non-political organization—learned up on Kennedy's side, called for faster growth.

Trying to accomplish this is going to be one of Kennedy's toughest tasks.

At 5:30 p.m. the AP carried another story out of Washington. This one, basing its information on "authoritative sources," said Eisenhower would send Congress a budget which at this moment looks very sunny, indeed.

The country is in a recession, the fourth since World War II, and just preventing its getting worse will call for strenuous efforts by Kennedy's new administration.

If it does get worse, Kennedy may have to take stringent steps. The President's budget is his estimate of how much spending should be for the fiscal year starting July 1 and how much the government will collect from revenue to offset the spending.

Eisenhower figures, The AP said that if Congress votes to spend no more than he suggests, then at the end of the fiscal year (June 30, 1962), the government revenue will be $600 million more than its expenses.

But this is based on a happy view of the future: The belief that the recession will get no worse and that a gradual recovery will begin in the next few weeks.

This is contrary to the way most economists see it.

Just 10 minutes after The AP finished moving the Eisenhower budget story it moved another as a bulletin out of New York where Kennedy is staying until his inauguration Jan. 20.

This one started off: "President-elect John F. Kennedy tonight received study committee recommendations for swift emergency measures to combat the business slump. The group also urged temporary tax cuts if the situation turns a great deal worse in the spring."

The study group, appointed by Kennedy to evaluate economic conditions, wasn't predicting disaster which would require massive spending and public works.

But it did suggest a bundle of steps to end the slump without trying to be drastic right away, if then suggested drastic ones if the recession takes a mean downturn.

Over-Strict Parents Do More Harm Than Good

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am 17 and in love with a boy 20. We plan to marry next summer. My parents don't like him. They say he isn't in my class. They are very religious his are not, although he does go to church with me.

Last summer his sister visited me, and her boy friend and mine took dinner with us at my uncle's apartment. My grandmother chaperoned us. Next day my uncle told my parents. Firecrackers started going off. It was terrible.

My boy friend's parents made his sister come home. I ran away and got a job. My parents sent the police after me. Our minister visited me and we talked things out. My parents asked me to come home. I refused. If I do go, my boy friend will not be allowed inside our door. Should I go?

—Confused

Dear Confused: Your poor misguided parents by their very opposition are sending you straight into the arms of this boy. If you were older, I'd say don't let them or anybody else try to lead your life for you. But at 17 you still lack mature judgment. Ten years from now you may wonder what on earth you saw in the boy. Im not saying, "Go home, repent, eat humble pie." If you have a good job and a decent place to live, stay where you are. However, don't be in a hurry to marry!

Dear Helen:

I am 14 and the eldest of five children. My 9-year-old sister literally moved into the bedroom of my 6-year-old brother. Mom fears that when they do become man and woman their relationship will filib of the senators present and voting. Now a two-thirds margin is required.

Among bills introduced in the Senate Thursday were these:

A $389.5-million measure for depressed areas. Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., its chief sponsor, said it is a top item on the Kennedy program.

A $1.9-billion federal aid to education proposal, carrying grants for school construction and teacher salaries, by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

Legislation to set up a medical care program for retired persons under the Social Security system, by McNamara. He said the bill would cover the more than 13 million persons over 65 who are under Social Security and about 3 million others who are not. McNamara claimed Kennedy endorsement for such a proposal.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., introduced a bill to prohibit the broadcasting of general election returns before midnight, EST, on election night. East Coast returns, Goldwater reasoned, thus could not reach Western areas before their polls are closed and influence Western voting.

The pilot said his analysis indicated there was an area of "nil radio reception from the Col's Neck facility."

Moran, who was flying a Boeing 707 jet, said he also encountered similar trouble from the Col's Neck station on Dec. 20 when he was on a training flight from New York to Atlantic City.

The Col's Neck directional signal is one of several available to pilots approaching Laguardia and Idlewild airports.

The airline captain said that he notified the Federal Aviation Agency ground controller immediately after noticing the difficulty.

Under questioning he admitted, however, that he had not had any previous trouble with any of the radio signals in the New York area. He said, however, that most of his work had dealt with training pilots and that he was not in the area a great deal.

Thursday, David Thomas, director of the FAA's Bureau of Air Traffic Management, testified that a better system of radar plane control is desirable, but presently there are insufficient airport personnel and radar scopes to do the job.

Yeti Scalp Back at Monastery
KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—The "yeti" scalp got back to the Khamjung monastery on the promised day after being taken on a 30,000-mile round-the-world trip by skeptical Western explorers.

A U.S. helicopter carried the scalp and Mr. Everest hero Sir Edmund Hillary here. He had borrowed it from villagers for a one-month inspection by experts to determine if it came from a yeti, the legendary "abominable snowman" of the Himalayas.

The Western experts agreed the scalp was ancient but they discounted its connection with the elusive yeti.

Anti-Trust Suit Dissolves Firm
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department Thursday announced entry of an antitrust consent judgment at Memphis, Tenn., under which Durable Building Materials Council Inc. of that city will be dissolved.

Companion consent judgments were also entered against Building Materials dealers enjoining them from entering into any agreement to fix or control prices for cement and ready-mixed concrete in the Memphis area.

The government charged in a civil antitrust suit filed at Memphis last Sept. 19 that price-fixing agreements on these supplies had been in effect since at least 1955.

The same group was indicted Sept. 19 on price-fixing charges. Others entering into the consent judgment, the department said, were: Fischer Lime & Cement Co., Fay Realty Co., Crump Lime

Plane Pilot Relates Difficulty

By RALEIGH ALLSBROOK

NEW YORK (AP)—An American Airlines pilot testified today that on the day of the Dec. 16 collision of two airliners here he had difficulty receiving one of the radio directional signals used by planes approaching New York.

Capt. Walter P. Moran, a pilot since 1935, appeared before a Civil Aeronautics Board inquiry into the collision of a United Air Lines DC8 jet and a Trans World Airlines Constellation that took the lives of 134 persons.

Moran said he encountered the trouble on the afternoon of Dec. 16, some five hours after the collision over Staten Island.

He was on a training flight from Detroit to Idlewild Airport at the time he said. He said the Col's Neck signal over New Jersey first came in strong but then failed and he had to use other radio directional signals.

The pilot said his analysis indicated there was an area of "nil radio reception from the Col's Neck facility."

Moran, who was flying a Boeing 707 jet, said he also encountered similar trouble from the Col's Neck station on Dec. 20 when he was on a training flight from New York to Atlantic City.

The Col's Neck directional signal is one of several available to pilots approaching Laguardia and Idlewild airports.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

CHAPTER XXIV

They rode out across the prairie, and an hour later Bart saw dust off to their left against the sun. He spoke to Arrington, who studied it.

"Somebody's making tracks for Mohectic," Arrington said.

"Trying to waylay us?"

"I don't think so." But Arrington was puzzled. "I don't know, though. They must have come from the place we just left."

They pulled into Mohectic about dark. The one dusty main street was lined with saloons, and already the oil lamps were lighted and the player pianos were pounding.

Arrington turned off at a hotel and into a street unlighted even by the faint yellow glimmer of a saloon lamp, and pounded on a door in a small building.

"Sheriff in?" asked Arrington.

"He went to Dodge yesterday to see Charlie Bassett."

"You won't have any trouble with these men," said Arrington. "Watch the ugly one. The other will be out in a few days."

"I want a lawyer," said Bart.

"How about money?"

Bart said, "I've got my six-shooters."

Arrington considered. "I know a young fellow who will take you on credit. And I will leave your hardware with the jailer here, his name is Taylor."

He was locked into a tiny iron-barred cell next to Gentry, who lay on the floor and went to sleep, snoring raucously.

Half an hour later Taylor came back with his lantern leading Allen, a youngish man trying to grow a red mustache.

"How soon can I get out of here?" Bart demanded.

Allen shook his head. "If what Arrington says is right, we'll probably get you out as soon as we get a hearing."

"All right," Bart said impatiently. "When can we have a hearing—in the morning?"

Allen shook his head. "Arrington was willing. He said he would stay over long enough to testify in the morning; he didn't think Jones would be here, although he told him to appear. But we can

Bread is vital but perhaps we should NOT live only to eat.

We are invited to break the bread as Jesus broke it and the Great Baker stored the earth with plenty for all. Woe be it to the selfish hand who holds the knife and cuts the slices thin. We are told to beware of him who withholds corn, for the people shall curse him. Our body is of the earth and must be fed from the earth.

But the soul is of Heaven and must be fed with Heavenly bread. Then let us worship in church this week and pray to God to, "Give us
this day our daily bread."
